

Alan E. Small Bio

Mr. Small is a graduate of both the University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins University. He is currently a Certified Internal Auditor (CIA), a Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE), a Certified Construction Auditor (CCA), a Certified Quality Assurance Analyst (CQA), a Certified Instructor with the Maryland Police Training Commission for Fraud Investigation for Law Enforcement, a Maryland State Licensed Tax Professional, a Cisco Certified Network Associate Certificate holder, and a member of the National Association of Enrolled Agents.

Mr. Small is a business professional. He currently serves as the President of the Maryland Chapter of the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners. He previously has served as a member of the ACFE Advisory Board and has served on the Board of Directors of the Institute of Internal Auditors for twelve years. He was also one of five members selected from North America by the Institute of Internal Auditors to author world-wide test questions for inclusion of the Certified Internal Auditor test as a test development team member.

Mr. Small is a former law enforcement official who currently maintains his affiliation with current updated federal training and certifications provided by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. Additionally, Mr. Small's experience through law enforcement and public commercial experience includes transportation management, commercial bank analysis, public policy and analysis, and public and private school finance management, and higher education administration responsible for conducting internal investigations, executive level audit management and fraud investigations.

Mr. Small is currently employed by the state of Maryland and assigned to the President's Office at Morgan State University where he, in conjunction with his colleague, are responsible for all University -wide internal management auditing and investigations.